

Bear Creek Project Bid To Be Awarded

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (U-P)—The U. S. Army Engineers said today a contract for sluice gates construction at the Bear Creek Dam project in northeastern Pennsylvania will be awarded on or about Aug. 28.

Rep. Flood (D-Pa.) said he had been notified that the Engineers estimate the cost of the sluice gates phase of the project will be about $370,000.

Construction of a stream gauging station is expected to get under way about Sept. 21, at an estimated cost of $11,000.

The Bear Creek project is designed to provide both flood control for the Lehigh Valley and recreational facilities for the Bear Creek region.

Grand Jury Investigating Signal Depot Irregularities Recesses Until Thursday

SCRANTON, Pa., Aug. 7 (U-P)—A federal grand jury probing alleged construction irregularities at the $3 million dollar Army Signal Corps depot at nearby Tobyhanna recessed today until Thursday at 10 a.m.

The last witness to the day was Rep. William J. Green (D-Pa.) of Philadelphia, who was in the jury room three-quarters of an hour in the morning and again for an hour in the afternoon.

The congressman said nothing about his testimony, but when asked by a reporter if he thought this would be his "first and last visit to the grand jury," Green replied:

"I hope it's my only visit."

Just before he entered the grand jury room, Green said: "I am here in answer to a subpoena. I have no other comment."

U. S. Atty. J. Julius Levy said later he regretted that through a "mistake" a subpoena had been issued for Green's appearance. Levy said he had not issued it and that as a courtesy to Green as a congressman, he should have been "invited" to appear before the grand jury.

Levy did not say whether Green would be recalled when the jury reconvenes Thursday.

The grand jurors also were scheduled to hear a close political associate of Green, Herbert J. McGlinchey Jr., a former Philadelphia congressman.

But Levy said the U. S. Marshall's office in Philadelphia had been unable to locate McGlinchey. However, the FBI, called in to help, said McGlinchey was at the New Jersey shore, recuperating from an operation.

McGlinchey, at his summer home at Longport, N. J., said he was unaware anyone had been looking for him and didn't know what it was all about.

McGlinchey, who is a current candidate for Congress, said he will appear before the grand jury when it reconvenes Thursday.

Another witness today was Frederick Raft, Hartford, Conn., who had a $1-million-dollar plumbing, heating and metalworking contract at Tobyhanna. It was the third time Raft has appeared in the current investigation.

Eisenhower Questions Good Faith

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (U-P)—President Eisenhower today questioned Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's good faith in keeping agreements. He urged Khrushchev to rid Russia's foreign policy of the "evil" of Stalinism.

In a new letter to the Russian leader, Eisenhower also hinted that he may make new disarmament proposals after present studies are completed.

Eisenhower's letter, released by the White House after delivery in Moscow, was a reply to a note from Khrushchev on June 6. The Soviet Premier advised the President that Russia had decided to cut its armed forces by 1,200,000 men and was prepared to reduce forces in Germany. He suggested cuts in Russian and Western armed forces in Germany could contribute to solution of the German problem.

Eisenhower rejected the Bulgarian suggestion for this approach to the long deadlock over the division of Germany, saying that the problem of troops "cannot be dealt with as an isolated matter."

He then reminded Khrushchev—in the restrained tone which has characterized their year-old correspondence—that they had agreed in their meeting at Geneva last year that Germany should be unified by means of free elections. Eisenhower said the Commission Delays Opening Of Extension

HARRISBURG, Aug. 7 (U-P)—The Turnpike Commission today called off tentative plans to open a new 10-mile stretch of the Northeast Extension at the end of August. No new opening date was set.

However, Chairman G. Franklin McSorley said the action would mean a delay until the T. J. Evans tunnel through Blue Mountain in Carbon County is completed. Latest estimates fix completion date of the tunnel for December.

The commission's action followed an inspection trip of the extension last Thursday. As planned the 30 miles between the Mahoning Valley and Wilkes-Barre interchanges and an additional 8.9 miles north of Emerald, Lehigh County, would have been opened to traffic on either Aug. 30, 31 or Sept. 1.

It would have meant motorists would have to use an eight mile "detour" on public roads around the uncompleted tunnel.

"After traveling the eight mile detour by Route 29 around the tunnel and after considering the recommendation of the Highways Department which contemplates relocation and reconstruction of Route 29 including a portion that would be used for detouring turnpike traffic the commission plans were revised," a commission statement said.

At present about 40 miles of the 110-mile extension is open.

After the inspection McSorley reported that the detour contained a steep grade "of about 8 per cent" in one section that might be a serious safety hazard. The road cannot be relocated before the end of the month.

The commission held a closed meeting today with representatives of firms holding contracts on the mile-long tunnel project.

Commissioner James F. Torrance commented that he did not believe any sections would be opened if it was necessary for motorists to detour off the superhighway.

Meanwhile the commission disclosed that surveys are under way to provide turnpike travelers with better telephone facilities along the road.

McSorley said surveys are being made following receipt of a letter by Gov. Leader from Jack Kelly, Philadelphia contractor.

Benefits For Retirement

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (U-P)—President Eisenhower today signed a bill increasing by 10 per cent the monthly benefits of most of the 470,000 persons on railroad retirement rolls.

The increases are effective retroactively to July 1 of this year. "I take this action," Eisenhower said, "for two reasons:

"First, it will help thousands of retired railroad employees and their wives to meet their day-to-day living expenses.

"Secondly, the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee has indicated its unanimous determination to act promptly in the next session of the congress on a measure which will finance the cost of these benefit increases."

He added it is estimated that the benefit increases provided in the new law will cost 83 million dollars a year.

"Failure to provide for proper financing," the President noted, "would mean that the time will come when the existing reserve fund of the railroad retirement system will be exhausted." If that happened, he added, the program "would be left without sufficient income to meet its benefit obligations to the thousands of hard-working railroad employees who are now contributing to the fund."

Thruway Debate Continues

DEBATE OVER THE proposed East Stroudsburg phase of the State's $10-million Thruway continued last night as the borough council postponed formal action on the controversial question until next week.

In the meantime, Borough Secretary Sterling Cramer was directed to send a letter to the Highway Department's chief engineer, Arthur Weisenberger, to get his version of a meeting between certain borough residents and highway officials in Harrisburg last week.

Arthur M. Troegner, spokesman for a group opposing an interchange at Prospect St., said he was "amazed" at some things said at a meeting between council and highway officials here Monday night. Therefore, he asked that a letter be sent to Weisenberger—marked personal—to determine his version of the Harrisburg meeting. Troegner insisted that Weisenberger directed District Engineer Edwin J. Greenwald and a representative of the engineering firm drawing the Thruway plans to go over the area with representatives of the opposing group before they met with council.

Council met Monday night with Greenwald and his assistant, along with representatives of the consulting firm. However, Troegner said they did not contact his group, nor study its alternate proposal.

After some discussion, council agreed to contact the chief engineer, but tacked on the proviso it would give its formal acceptance or rejection of the plan at a special meeting next Tuesday night.

As the debate wore on, Council President Roy Lloyd ruled that all discussion would be limited to five minutes.

Troegner reiterated his contention there can be an "East Stroudsburg access" without it being within the borough limits. He suggested that such an access could have three entrances into the borough, or more as the community expands.

However, merchants again expressed their approval of a Prospect St. access.

"By all means we must have an access to East Stroudsburg, or we're out of luck," said one businessman.

Another merchant said he and other businessmen want to come into the borough and "by the shortest way possible—not through Franklin Hill."

Ship Lines Disagree On Crash Cause

NEW YORK, Aug. 7 (U-P)—A dispute arose today over blame for the July 25th collision between the Swedish motorship Stockholm and the Italian liner Andrea Doria.

The Swedish-American Line said the Doria made a reckless left turn without warning into the path of the Stockholm.

The Italian line replied that, on the contrary, it was a sharp, un-signalized right turn by the Stockholm that caused the crash.

The opposing statements were preliminary to court actions in which blame for the collision will be argued. At stake are millions of dollars in damage claims.

This was the first report given by either line concerning circumstances of the collision July 25 in the Atlantic off Nantucket Light.

The statement was contained in a petition the Swedish-American Line filed in U. S. district court, asking that it not be held liable for any "loss, damage, injury or destruction" arising from the collision.

The crash caused possibly 52 deaths. Twenty-five persons are dead or presumed dead and another 27 are unaccounted for.

The Swedish-American line said the Stockholm sighted the Andrea Doria about two miles off Nantucket Lightship.

"She (Andrea Doria) was well on the port bow of the Stockholm and in the position anticipated from the observations and plottings on the radar."

"The Andrea Doria was showing her red or port side light, and her white masthead lights were open so as to pass at a safe distance to the port of the Stockholm."

"Although the vessels were in a position to pass safely port to port to red, the Stockholm went to starboard to give even greater passing distance."

"The Andrea Doria, however, suddenly closed out her red light, showed her green light and veered sharply to her own left or port at undiminished speed, turning across the bow of the Stockholm."

Adlai Seeks First Ballot Nomination

CHICAGO, Aug. 7 (U-P)—Averell Harriman's forces claimed modest gains today in the face of Adlai E. Stevenson's effort to capture the Democratic presidential nomination in a first ballot blitz.

While rumblings sounded from the South over his civil rights views, Stevenson was completely confident of victory at next week's Democratic National Convention. He was sizing up possible vice presidential running mates and telling supporters President Eisenhower can be licked in November by a fighting Democratic campaign.

Six days in advance of the convention's starting gun, lieutenants of Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee are working openly now for second place for the man who jumped out of Stevenson's way.

Reason

While there is ample reason for suspecting Stevenson would prefer someone else, the practical realities of politics could dictate tapping Kefauver for the vice presidential nomination because of his recognized pulling power in the farm belt.

Both Harriman, the New York governor, and Stevenson, the former Illinois governor, were taking the calculated risk of alienating a measure of Southern support by someone's civil rights issue.

Harriman was represented as ready to scrap for a strong civil rights plank in the party platform, to reinforce the Supreme Court decision outlawing racial segregation in public schools. Stevenson is telling friends he doesn't consider it necessary for the plank to spell out an endorsement of the Supreme Court ruling, since it is the law of the land, but that he regards it as inevitable that this will be done.

Sen. Sam Ervin of North Carolina, a member of the committee which already has begun engineering work on the platform, said that if Stevenson publicly supports a plank endorsing the Supreme Court decision "it might cost him the election."

Term

Another Southern spokesman, former Gov. John S. Battle of Virginia, termed such an endorsement "one thing we won't go along with." Battle also is on the platform committee. A Stevenson backer, he was prominent in the North-South battle at the 1952 convention over a party loyalty oath.

Harriman would have less to lose than Stevenson through an open move to back up the Supreme Court decision in the party platform since he has far less support in the South than his rival commands.

The director of the Harriman for President organization, Loyd Benefield, says his man has "seated support" in Dixie but has been picking up elsewhere.

Here is the way the claims of the opposing camps stack up now, with 686 votes needed to clinch the presidential nomination:

Benefield says Harriman can count on 366 to 376 votes. He previously had claimed 341.

Sculptor Talks To Members Of Art Club

GALLERY ART Club held its third and final Summer meeting last night with sculptor Gaetano Cecere as main speaker.

In his remarks Cecere emphasized Pennsylvania and the Pocono Mountains as a "painter's and sculptor's paradise." He noted that an artist draws his inspiration from nature and natural forms.

He said the main approaches to sculpture are two fold: That the sculptor surrounds himself with various natural materials—wood, stone, etc.—and then contemplates them to find the revealing form which most nearly suggests the finished product; That various studies are made and a copy is made from a model, the classic or traditional approach.

Attendance
About 40 members attended the meeting. Jesse Weiss, club president, opened the meeting. Weiss noted the progress made by the group during the few short months of its existence. He indicated that next year the scope of the club's program may be broadened with more time to work on a planned program during Winter months ahead.

Last night's meeting served as the kickoff for the gallery's newest show—a three-artist exhibit featuring Cecere's sculpture, and paintings by Ada Resario Cecere and J. Havard Macpherson. The show continues for two weeks.

East Borough Council Changes Plan

EAST STROUDSBURG borough council last night rescinded an ordinance to provide water line extensions on a 50-50 basis, and agreed to install facilities for residents of upper E. Broad St. for $1.50 a lineal foot.

Borough Engineer Edward C. Hess was directed to determine how much eight inch pipe will be needed, so that the borough may advertise for bids. Meanwhile, Streets Superintendent Henry Le-soine indicated the job may be completed around Dec. 1.

Upper E. Broad St. residents petitioned council for water after the area was annexed sometime ago. Since then, council has tried to work out an equitable basis of assessing costs for such services. Council therefore adopted an ordinance distributing the cost between the borough and the property owners on a 50-50 basis. However, after more debate last night, council agreed to rescind that motion and charge residents 75-cents per foot front, or $1.50 a lineal foot.

Proposal

Council sent to its streets committee a proposal to install additional meters in the borough, and to have the meters in operation Friday nights.

Councilman Herman Smeltz made the suggestion that meters be installed on one side of Washington St. to the borough bridge, on Ananionk St. to Lackawanna Ave., and along additional portions of N. and S. Courtland Sts. Chief Burgess Jesse S. Flory suggested that the borough might charge 10-cents for four hours for parking in these areas.

Smeltz also made the recommendation that meters be kept in operation Friday nights. He noted that this, along with more meters, would provide additional revenue for the borough.

Howard Smith presented a petition to council on behalf of residents along certain portions of Marguerite, Normal and Smith Sts. He noted that these sections, while not accepted as borough streets are in a deplorable condition, and are dangerous to motorists.

Councilman Thomas Sexton moved that a formal ordinance be prepared to accept these streets. In the meantime, council agreed to give some relief by providing shade and oil.

Council also approved street lights for Lenox Ave., Franklin Hill Rd., and the intersections of Marguerite-Mary Sts., Gwendolyn-Mary Sts., and Gwendolyn-Normal Sts.

Borough Fire Chief Marvin Abel appeared at last night's session to report that a hose truck is now obsolete and will have to be replaced by next year. He also reported that some ordinances relative to the fire department, have become obsolete and should be re-studied.

Council's fire committee will meet with fire officials next Monday night to further discuss the matter.

Council also agreed to lease two parking spots to Al Hertz, who has just received PUC approval to operate a taxi service in the Stroudsburgs.

Burgess Flory reported that additional police may be needed, and recommended that the Police Civil Service Committee take steps to establish a new list of applicants.

Frank Bachman Badly Burned By Flaming Gasoline While Working At Gregory's Pond

FRANK BACHMAN, 50 of 41 Brown St., East Stroudsburg, was seriously burned yesterday afternoon when a gasoline can exploded and threw flaming gas over his legs and left arm.

He was listed in "fair" condition at General Hospital last night.

Acme Hose Co. firemen said that Bachman was working with a State Highways Department truck at Gregory's Ice Pond at about 2:45 p.m. yesterday.

Bachman was pumping water from the pond into water drums on the back of the truck. During the process a small can filled with gasoline apparently exploded from an unknown cause, firemen said.

A 30-gallon drum of kerosene, also sitting on the back of the truck, did not explode, a fire company official said.

When the gasoline ignited, Bachman's clothing was set on fire, the spokesman said. The man ran into the pond to put out the fire. A passerby turned in an alarm to the fire company.

Firemen said damage to the truck—an all-steel construction vehicle—was negligible. Rubber hose attached to the rear of the truck was badly damaged. Members of the fire company took Bachman to the hospital. He was given emergency treatment there and admitted to the hospital for further treatment.

Hospital authorities said yesterday Bachman had suffered second degree burns of the lower extremities and of the left arm.

Blood Program Needs Our Help; Everyone Should Give Pint Today

There's a golden opportunity awaiting Monroe County citizens today.

It's the chance to demonstrate our earnest desire that the Red Cross Blood Program be continued on the same basis it has operated since it was founded more than six years ago.

Last month, only 71 pints were donated when the Red Cross Bloodmobile paid its July visit to the county. The quota was 125 pints, figured on a time-tested formula based on anticipated needs for a community of 35,000 persons.

Monroe's yearly quota is 1,250 pints and since the Bloodmobile is scheduled for only ten visits a year, the 125-pint quota is an adjusted one. The actual monthly quota is slightly more than 104 pints.

Thus, Monroe County's deficit in the Red Cross Area Blood Bank at Wilkes-Barre is 33 pints for the first month of the fiscal year, although it figures to 54 pints in the overall picture.

This deficit, if it continues, will prevent the county from receiving full coverage of its blood needs at the General Hospital and necessitate rounding up donors to make up the difference after the regular allocation has been depleted.

Last month, for the first time since the program was inaugurated here, the blood center was unable to meet all of the county's needs and donors had to be called to the hospital to give blood in an emergency.

In July, General Hospital used 113 pints of blood with the Red Cross Blood Bank furnishing 107 pints. The remaining six pints were given by donors at the hospital. Since only 71 pints were collected by the Bloodmobile, the operating deficit is 36 pints (in contrast to the bookkeeping deficit of 33 pints).

Red Cross officials are going all out in their efforts to generate new interest in the blood program here. Value of the program, which makes blood available—without charge—to all residents of the county regardless of where they may be hospitalized, has been demonstrated many, many times.

The Red Cross has attempted to acquaint the public with the facts concerning the program and has publicized, where possible, cases in which the availability of blood has been the means by which lives were saved in an emergency.

There's a tendency toward smugness in most of us when it involves such matters as the blood program. We may feel confident we'll never experience the need for a transfusion. All too frequently, however, an occasion arises where one of us or someone in our family is rushed to the hospital for treatment that requires the immediate use of blood.

It's an indescribable relief, when that time comes, to know that the blood is on hand and available to us—simply because someone else has been thoughtful enough to donate it in advance of our needs.

YOU can be that someone today. You can help build up the county's credit in the Red Cross center so another person may obtain the blood he or she needs WHEN it is needed. Donate a pint today. The Bloodmobile will be at the Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Allocation For Teachers College Projects Comes As Welcome News

The territory served by East Stroudsburg State Teachers College welcomes the announcement that the General State Authority has appropriated $1,780,000 for construction of three new buildings and other improvements on the local campus.

Largest allocation is the $800,000 for a new women's dormitory. Some $350,000 is earmarked for a 10-room science classroom building and an additional $530,000 for a new library and administrative building. The balance, or $100,000, will be spent on existing buildings.

The new dormitory will relieve overcrowded conditions on the campus, a situation that forced the college to lease a Stroudsburg hotel to house women students during the past term. Likewise, the other two buildings are badly needed to meet the requirements of a growing college which is playing a prominent role in the nation-wide effort to wipe out the existing shortage of well qualified teachers.

Funds for the local project will come from a 100 million dollar loan authorized by the General Assembly. GSA has already allocated the funds as directed by the Legislature.

While some of the GSA projects may be delayed, dormitories for state teachers colleges will receive top priority because of an acute need for them, according to word from Harrisburg.

GSA approved the local appropriation upon recommendation of Gov. George M. Leader. The governor acted after working closely with Monroe County Rep. Van D. Yetter, of Marshalls Creek. All the officials who were instrumental in setting up the project are to be commended. Their action represents an important step in the college's long-range program to educate more young people in the teaching profession.

Now that the money has been allocated, the chief objective is getting work under way on all three buildings as quickly as possible. We hope actual construction will be expedited and the buildings brought into use at an early date.

George Sokolsky Says...

Perhaps Baboons And Cockroaches Hold Answer To Proper Diet For Heart Disease

I have received a press agent's release from the Southwest Foundation for Research and Education, San Antonio, Texas, which says that a colony of 200 baboons may give the answer to heart disease. This ought to be an exciting item now that the election campaign is on.

The baboon is unlike, I am told, cows, chickens, dogs and guinea pigs in that the baboon gets hardening of the arteries naturally, the same as a man does. I do not know much about other animals but some dogs of my acquaintance died of heart attacks; so maybe these scientists better not include dogs in their stuff. Too many people know dogs intimately.

On the same day, I read that some scientists in Toronto are doing a similar research on cockroaches which disturbed me no end. I cannot imagine how or I being related to La Cucaracha.

It would appear that a 16-year-old baboon died in the New Orleans zoo. Dr. Russell Holman of the Louisiana State University did an autopsy on this baboon to see what he died of. Well, it was discovered that he found naturally developed fat deposits in this baboon's arteries which is what causes lots of human beings to get hardening of the arteries and some die thereof. Now here happened something spectacular. Dr. N. F. Wertheimer of the Southwest Foundation had worked out a method for keeping an aorta alive outside a body for about a month, so that he could study what went on in the heart and arteries. But he had dealt with animals that do not naturally develop heart disease. By having a look at this New Orleans baboon, he concluded that here is an animal that gets the same kind of an attack that man does and therefore this is the animal that should lead to the cure for an illness concerning which there is really almost no accurate knowledge.

For mind you! Every doctor has his own diet but they all say to reduce fats and salt. This baboon, who died in New Orleans, lived on potatoes, carrots, greens, green beans and peanuts. (What! No bananas!) He never ate animal fats. Yet, his arteries showed plenty of fats. The question then arises: Does cholesterol come from outside or does the body make it? If the baboon proves anything, it proves that I can go back to eating caviar and salami and even corned beef.

At present, the doctors refuse cardinals the joy of eating large quantities of butter and cream and some even take their patients off eggs, fearing that cholesterol will get them. But this baboon who died in New Orleans never ate any of these rich things and he died just the same and of a heart attack from fat in the arteries. So maybe the doctors have been giving us all the wrong diet. At any rate, these scientists want some money to try baboons and set up a place where they can put them on my bland and colorless diet and feed some others according to the ideas of M. Escott as practised at the Lucullus Circle and soon we shall know which baboon gets hit the hardest, the one who lives like George Bernard Shaw and Bernard Macfadden on tasteful chlorophyll or those who live on all the good things. The experiment ought to be well worth while.

Heart disease has now been made famous because a President of the United States in office had an attack. And for a time everybody was reading all about this particular ailment as described by Dr. Paul Dudley White and others, but only those in hospitals really realized how little is known about this trouble.

Some day we shall know enough about the heart so that those who care to live to a ripe old age without too much ado might guide themselves. My friend Dr. Maurice Lewis, will be 99 years old at his next birthday. I expect to preside at a dinner in November where he will make a small speech, in vigorous voice, with a wit and humor and a fitness of vocabulary that shows a nimble and flexible brain. And he will be smoking a big black cigar, as he always does, and he will have his liquor as usual. Apparently there is no rule about such things.

Fairly Spoken By MARGARET LATROBE Print Plainly Plea Of Post Office Is Proper

If asked, the Post Office Department would have to say that Johnny can read much better than he can write. The Johnny Q. Publics who cannot write legibly, but who insist on doing so, are just one of the torments familiar to the post office downtown.

And who hasn't received mail addressed in such startling script that we marvelled at its reaching our door? Maybe this efficient deciphering of lousy penmanship is one duty of mail handlers, but I question it. At least they have given the public the benefit of the doubt, assuming correspondents addressed envelopes as legibly as possible.

Now we hear of a new game similar to Double-Crostle which is being perpetrated on postal folk by a mixed-up public. Letters are deliberately and obviously directed to well known department stores, law firms and bird's nest manufacturers—in German. Or by synonyms. Or simply to "Miss Barbara Hutten, Lord Knows Where, U. S. A." Then it's up to the civil servants employed in the mail room to get the message into its rightful hands.

Fun is, as they say, fun. But this bit of foolishness leaves me waiting for laughs, particularly when we are told that postal rates must be jacked up in order that at least one branch of the government may break even.

In many metropolitan post offices are sections called "Hard" to which are diverted the illegible or crackpot mail. A crew of sharp-witted gentlemen sift through the envelopes in hopes of detecting clues leading to intended recipients.

Cross word puzzles are dandy entertainment, but those gifted with word magic might stop bothering the postmen and win some legitimate prize money. To date, Uncle Sam doesn't pay off a son for the cleverest mis-addressed mail.

Although it is comforting to know of the patience and efficiency accorded chicken-track handwriting, we should welcome the news of a sterner attitude from Postmaster Summerfield. Let him get tough about this. Let him issue the ultimatum—"Print Plainly. Post Office Protests Puzzles."

If a letter is important, it deserves a legible address. If not, why expect a detective force to be responsible for its delivery? And if senders deliberately attempt to confuse, let them confuse the nearest waste basket.

Face-Saving 'Out' Sought By Nasser In Suez Seizure

Washington, August 7.—President Gamal Nasser is secretly propositioning the U.S. on a face-saving "out" on his increasingly perilous seizure of the Suez Canal.

State and Defense Department authorities have good reason to believe the Egyptian dictator is using the same tactics with Russia and India. He is exerting every effort and will to induce them to help him out of his hazardous predicament.

Nasser is masking his under-cover overtures to the U.S. behind a torrent of public abuse and defiance of it, Britain and France.

While thundering frequently and loudly against the three Western powers, he is secretly proposing a compromise to the U.S. Nasser's obvious aim is to create a rift between it and the British and French.

The Egyptian ruler is convinced the U.S. will not resort to military measures in the Suez crisis. He has been told that by his Ambassador in Washington and Soviet Foreign Minister Shepilov. They base this view on the contention that the Eisenhower Administration will go to great lengths to avoid any action favoring of war in this election year.

These covert maneuvers are going on in both Washington and Cairo.

In Cairo, Ambassador Henry Byroade, who is being shifted from there to another post this month, has repeatedly conferred with Nasser in the past week. Similarly in Washington, the Egyptian Ambassador has been closeted almost daily with State Department officials.

The closely-guarded "compromise" sought by Nasser is a three-fold scheme involving the Canal, the proposed Aswan Dam, and large-scale financing by the World Bank, guaranteed by the U.S.

Note: Egypt has signed an agreement with Russia for the construction of a nuclear reactor next year. In addition to building it, the Soviet will also train the scientists and other personnel to operate the atomic project.

Like A Slave—There was a hilarious aftermath to Senator Estes Kefauver's withdrawal from the presidential race.

Hours before the Tennesseean's public announcement of that, his secret decision to do it was leaked all over the country—by Kefauver himself and some of his top lieutenants.

Washington correspondents of West Coast papers were queried about the matter several hours before Kefauver's press conference on it.

Their editors had been tipped off by local Kefauver supporters whom he had telephoned that morning. Another of his secret phone talks was with Adlai Stevenson. Kefauver called him in Chicago and told him what was impending.

Softball.—The Crestwood Hotel boys defeated Onawa Lodge, 18 to 4, at softball. Johnny Whalen made a home run with the bases loaded. "Link" Owens also scored a home run.

Close assistants of the Tennesseean also did some advance talking. One of them tipped off a Buffalo, N. Y., press friend the night before Kefauver's announcement.

At that time he was still, presumably, undecided what he would do. He was awaiting the recommendation of his leaders from 13 states whom he had summoned to Washington to consider his future course. But this upstate New Yorker strongly intimated to the newsmen that Kefauver would throw in the towel the next day—as he did.

"Jiggs" Donohue, national Kefauver manager, severely chided several of the conferees for letting out advance word. But he wasn't above doing a little of that himself. Donohue made several telephone calls along that line.

There was a lot of huffing and puffing among Kefauver insiders about leaking this story. Irate accusations and outraged complaints crackled hotly among them. But there were few who didn't leak, and some of the loudest protesters were the worst offenders.

It was all very silly and raucous. Note: A. Bradley Eben, Chicago attorney and vice chairman of the Kefauver campaign, has rented ten rooms on the seventh floor of the main convention hotel for convention headquarters. Kefauver's vice presidential drive will be masterminded from there.

Former Attorney General Howard McGrath, a top Kefauver leader, is telling friends he will cast his first vote for Representative McCormack, Massachusetts "favorite son" candidate. . . . Governor Averell Harriman is circulating a "declaration of principles," which the New Yorker says contains his views on key issues. He would like to have these pronouncements made the basis of the Democratic platform, but the chances for that are remote. According to Harriman, former President Truman heartily approves the document.

Company M Training At Base In Paradise Valley

MEMBERS OF COMPANY M, 313th Infantry, are holding their weekly training sessions at Flying W Ranch in Paradise Valley, pending transfer of company headquarters from Scranton to Stroudsburg. Thirty members attended Monday's session.

A permanent headquarters building will be leased for the unit by Second Army Engineers, according to First Lt. Charles C. Wilkinson, company commander. A central location in Stroudsburg is being considered for this purpose, he said.

Equipment

Upon completion of the lease and the subsequent occupancy of its new headquarters, the company will be issued equipment and weapons pertinent to its training mission, the officer added.

Heavy weapons company personnel are assigned the heavy machinegun, 81-mm. mortar, the 106 recoilless rifles in addition to smaller arms. Direct tactical support of the battalion with the weapons listed entails the training that will be given the local unit, as outlined and initiated by the Second Army commanding officer at summer encampment.

Possible Bathroom Expansion Should Be Provided Early

POSSIBLE BATHROOM expansion should be provided for when the house is built. Costs for increasing bathroom facilities are often unnecessarily high, according to the Title Council of America, because provision for extra plumbing was not "roughed in" when the house was originally constructed.

Natural Wood Popular In Modern Homes

"WE ARE borrowing concepts of architecture, furnishings, fabrics and colors from the world," says decorating authority Mrs. Elsie Doty Sopp, A.I.D.

Mrs. Sopp attributes this cosmopolitan attitude in modern homes to accelerated travel and a wish for richness as well as functionalism in our dwellings.

"That doesn't mean that the old or the exotic is not functional," she insists. "Many of the forms of antique furniture are more utilitarian than the boxy or almost inhuman molds of some so-called 'modern' designs."

"We have rediscovered the beauties and qualities of wood in furnishings, as many modern architects have discovered in building," says this imaginative interior decorator. "And along with the trend of mixing contemporary with traditional, we are faced with the problem of tying historical eras together in our walls and large areas."

Paneling. Natural wood paneling has long been considered a luxury beyond the reach of most homeowners, says this popular western decorator, but in today's homes that is not necessarily true. Some of the western softwoods such as Douglas fir, west coast hemlock and western red cedar, though costly in appearance, may well be more nominal than many other wall coverings, which need more frequent repairs and alteration.

These woods, in their neutrality of coloring, allow the artist's imagination to run rampant in interior colors and furnishings. Mrs. Sopp points out. They may also be finished in keeping with an all-over period theme with such devices as artificial antiquing with paint stains.

Failure to install extra drain and water piping in the walls when the house is built too frequently results in expensive tearing-out of walls when powder rooms, basement toilets, or second shower facilities must be added because of family growth.

The report also makes these other recommendations concerning foresight in bathroom planning:

Materials. Using durable materials for the bathroom walls and floor avoids the necessity of costly resurfacing when the house is several years old. The same long-range economy is suggested for plumbing fixtures and piping.

It is wise to estimate future water needs accurately, and install a system which will deliver adequate supplies when additional tubs, toilets and sinks are put in.

Initial installation of compacted facilities probably will be adequate for the family's needs for a long time. Such equipment usually consists of a bath-and-a-half in the space usually allotted to the single bathroom, and includes a separate toilet room, a tub-shower combination, and an individual shower stall. These facilities share the plumbing lines, thus cutting costs.

Conservative selection of wall, fixture and floor colors is important in the long run.

They may also be painted, and repainted, as tastes and fashions change in home decoration. But the natural beauty of grain and hue of these woods on your walls allow a capriciousness in fabric and furniture alteration without the added cost of having to do the whole room over when you want a new slipcover or some different drapes.

Restrictions Brought New Products

RESTRICTIONS on the use of copper and other critical materials brought about by the Korean War resulted in the development of various new products for homes. The National Association of Home Builders contends that many of the new products will never be displaced when the materials they substitute are again in plentiful supply.

Plastic water pipes have been developed and are now being used for both water and gas mains. Plastic shower fixtures also are made.

For Outlet Boxes. Plastic electric outlet boxes to house new low-voltage switch systems, allow the use of aluminum wire, which has not been as scarce as copper.

Plastic-like, long-life paints have been developed in multi-colors. They resist chipping and scratching, and because of non-static properties, they repel dust and dirt.

An inexpensive, glass-coated metal faucet is being produced to resist rust and corrosion. This saves copper and brass and is installed in a radically new method that cuts home building costs.

Sewer Pipes Practical. Sewer pipes are now made to resist underground root growths which clog many drains. They are leak-proof and rust-proof, require no lead caking or other expensive labor installation costs.

A laminated wood paneling has been fused under heat and pressure from wood flakes and chips, producing a veneer that is stronger than most wood and costs less than plywood. Experts describe this as one answer to any threatened lumber shortage and call it the lumber industry's most outstanding development in 30 years. It holds nails and screws near the edges without splitting.

Heating Industry Makes Progress

MORE PROGRESS has been made by the heating industry in the last 10 years than in the previous 10 centuries, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau. Package boilers, baseboard heating systems, electronic controls for oil burners, highly sensitive thermostats, indoor-outdoor controls for heating systems, controls actuated by wind velocities, convectors that will fit under picture windows, radiators that are 40 per cent smaller—these are among the innovations in heating that are providing new standards of comfort, safety, and fuel economy.

Handy Painting Aids

TOPS TO old tin cans are handy painting aids. To determine the color paint will be when dry, brush a broad streak upon the tin and place it in the oven for quick drying.

Putty Needs Paint

ALL WOOD and metal sash putties must be painted or job failure may result. Painting extends the life of any glazing job.

Additional Bathrooms

TWENTY-THREE per cent of all the new houses started during the first three months of this year had more than one bathroom.

Few Painting Points May Save Home Owner Money

THE HOME OWNER can economically paint a room successfully with a few simple pointers. Everything should be removed from the room before starting to paint. Newspapers laid on the floor will save cleaning paint drips later.

HOW often should tulip bulbs be taken up? What should be done with them when lifted?

Where beds are needed for summer bedding plants the tulip bulbs are lifted every year after the flowers fade. The foliage should not be broken off until it has ripened and turned brown. Replant the best bulbs among the shrubs or in perennial borders at once. If stored until fall, they must be kept cool and in a well ventilated place. Some varieties may be left in the same soil two or three years without lifting. Modern varieties give the best results the first year after planting.

A dwarf apple tree planted this spring is healthy and growing except for a gray mold that has shown up on some of the shoots. What shall I do?

Use a combined fungicide and insecticide which is available at seed stores. Spray two or three times at weekly intervals.

What causes my plugs to drop off the tree?

Plum curculio is probably the reason. Spray every week except when in flower, beginning before buds open. Use a combined insecticide and fungicide.

What is the name of the enclosed yellow flowered shrub and when should it be transplanted?

The shrub is named Kerria japonica. Transplant in October or early next spring.

Keep Out Heat

SUPERHEATED air from the roof, often reaching 150 degrees, can be kept out of the living quarters by placing full-thick batts or blankets of fireproof mineral wool between roof rafters or floor joists.

Good Paint Formula

GOOD HOUSE paint should have 70 per cent white lead content, 15 per cent titanium pigment and 15 per cent zinc pigment to insure a hard, bright surface.

Lacquers Available In Spray Guns

TOUGH, quick-drying lacquers in aerosol containers which act as spray guns are now available in many stores for home painting jobs. For some time manufacturers of major home appliances, such as refrigerators, have been using lacquers in "bomb" type containers for touching up finishes that had been accidentally marred. New research now makes it possible to package any type of paint suitable for spraying in this automatic container.

WHEAT 'RUN' IS ON

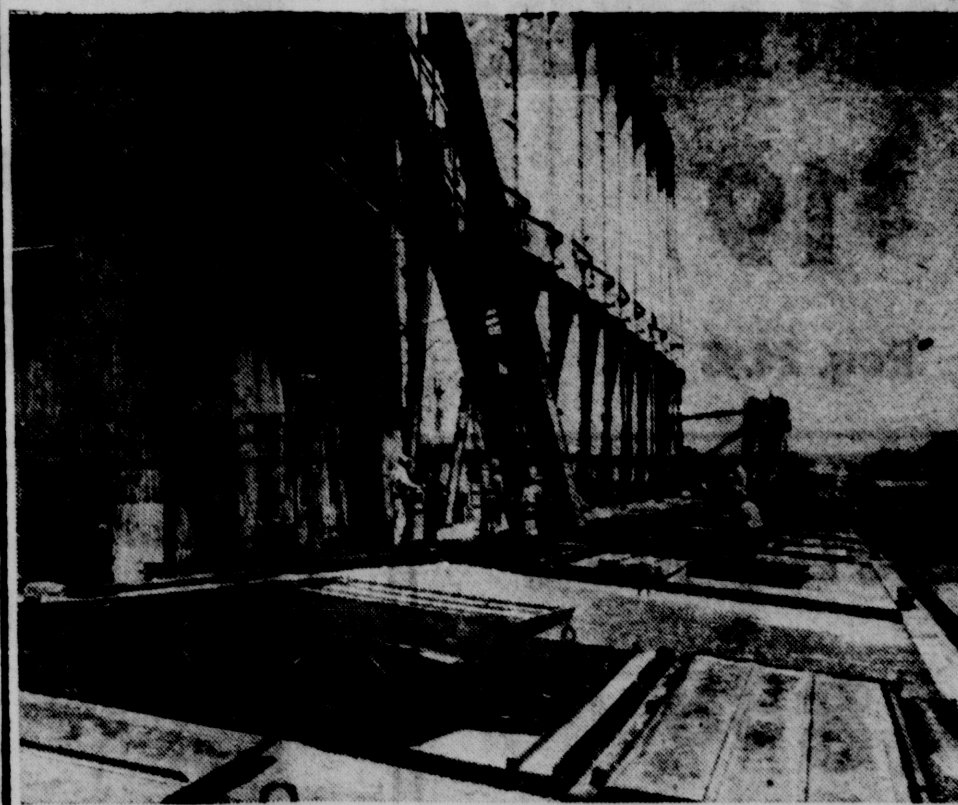

A long line of trucks and trailers files into the elevator area with wheat for storage.

In a cloud of wheat dust, Don Bruce takes out sample.

EVERY TWENTY-FOUR HOURS nearly one million bushels of harvest wheat flood into the city of Chicago by truck, barge and rail as this valuable crop nears the peak of its "run." At the city's largest grain elevator run by Cargill, Inc., the "run" is expected to reach gigantic proportions as farmers hasten to store crops at the terminal. Among causes of this "bumper" crop are excellent growing conditions, high-production wheat seed and government acreage allotments which enable the farmer to plant only his most productive acres. At the Cargill installation, rail cars and trucks are unloaded by huge hydraulic hoists and spouts and elevating "legs" at dockside serve barges and lake boats. The elevator is capable alone of storing one-third of the Illinois wheat production.

Federation Here In Sept.; Woman's Club Board Catches Up On Current, Future News

Entertaining the members of the Northeastern District, Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs this September was one of the items discussed at the meeting of the executive board of the Stroudsburg Woman's Club held Monday night at the home of the president, Mrs. Claude C. Leister, Foxton Hill.

As a member of the Monroe County Federation of Women's Clubs, which will play host to the district at the Penn-Stroud Hotel on September 26, the Stroudsburg club will have its part in entertaining the district. A similar meeting scheduled for the Stroudsburgs last year was cancelled because of the flood recovery program.

Town Over City

In discussing local club activities, the board considered present, future and continuing projects. One of their present projects is entertaining Miss Aria Joro, of Helsinki, Finland, through the International Research Fund.

Miss Joro, a guest at the meeting, spoke to the board of her gratitude for their part in helping her to realize an ambition to visit the United States held since childhood.

"Before I came, New York was the first place I thought of when I thought of the United States," she said. "Even though New York was the first place she visited here, she explained: 'Now the only place I think of here is Stroudsburg. It is a delightful place and my hostesses have been making my stay here more pleasant and exciting than I can tell you.'"

Mrs. J. Frank Grimm, who with Mrs. Fred Rhodes, are in charge of her visit, explained the steps by which the club had succeeded in having Miss Joro visit them for two months this summer. She is scheduled to speak at the Rotary Club and the Garden Club this month, and will be available to speak to other clubs, it was announced. Mrs. Grant Nitrauer may be called regarding duties by any clubs interested. Miss Joro has a sound and color film to show on Finland.

Home for Aged Status

The major welfare project of the club for the year, the Home for the Aged, is now marking time, it was explained, awaiting the results of a national contest for Homes for the Aged. The contest will end in October, when the plans will be studied with a view to the local situation. Best advice to the committee, Monroe County Home Association, has been to build rather than remodel existing buildings, it was explained.

Reports of the state convention were given including presentation of the theme for the year: Knowledge is Power, and the principal projects: Aid to the handicapped and mental health. The local pressbook received much favorable comment, it was announced.

Mrs. Samuel O. Wells, program chairman, submitted the program plans for the club meetings and Mrs. Howard Eckert presented the budget for the year, which were approved.

Mrs. Leister announced that Mrs. A. Byrd McDowell had been named drama chairman; and Mrs. Oscar Liljenstein, fine arts chairman. Mrs. Olaf Pedersen was accepted as a new member, transferring from the Junior Woman's Club.

The club rooms in the Stroud Community House are being redecorated this summer, it was announced, and are available as meeting rooms for other organizations in the community who may wish to rent them.

The board meeting took the form of a picnic supper at the Leister home. Board members present included Mrs. Claude Leister, Mrs. Samuel O. Wells III, Mrs. Edward Hess, Mrs. J. Richard Altomose, Mrs. Howard Eckert, Mrs. Walter Werkheiser, Mrs. Henry Heffele, Mrs. A. Byrd McDowell, Mrs. William A. Karschner, Mrs. Richard Fredenberg, Mrs. Edward Knob, Mrs. Caroff All, Mrs. Arthur M. Slee, Mrs. William A. Hannas, Mrs. Oscar Liljenstein, Mrs. Edwin B. Hughes, Mrs. J. Frank Grimm and Mrs. Nelson Beers.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

There's a stirring beneath the placid summer surface. Bubbles are beginning to rise to indicate where committees have been working; humps are appearing where club executive boards are gathering their forces, and the first thing you know, the whole social pot will be seething in that "full rolling boil" the cook books talk about.

The answer to "what's cooking?" will be as varied as the number of clubs and that's umpteen million, I guess.

Meanwhile, there seems to be a little confusion about Homes for the Aged projects which keep popping up in club news. The confusion arises because there are two separate and distinct movements under way to find some solution to a very real problem.

A long range project, now under the direction of a county-wide committee called Monroe County Home Association, was started years ago by the Business and Professional Woman's Club, has been joined by men's service clubs, the Stroudsburg Woman's Club and other groups.

At the moment the committee is awaiting outcome of a national contest to determine what kind of a home should be built to best suit this county's needs, including those of the aged ill.

The second project, originated by the Women's Association of Allied Beverage Industries last year, and bolstered by contributions from firms and individuals, has more immediate plans to take over an existing property and put it to use as a Home for the Needy Aged.

Concern for the aged is a common denominator, but otherwise the two are different in concept and in scope. All clear? Well, don't get any more grey hairs worrying about it. We'll all be candidates soon enough.

Melt semi-sweet chocolate and mix with crisp ready-to-eat cereal. Drop spoonfuls onto a baking sheet and allow to get firm. Serve to small fry with glasses of milk.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

It isn't often Dottie Dunn's at a loss for words, but she admits to being stymied by "profligacy" in the Sunday School lesson. In fact, she hurried in Monday to look it up in the Basic Everyday Encyclopedia and Funk & Wagnall's New College Standard Dictionary, both sold in our Wyckoff stationery department. That dictionary, by the way, is one of the finest on the market today, with any number of our store people, including Thelma Gordon, using it as reference in solving The Little Folks puzzles in the New York Daily News.

Ask the girls in our cosmetic department what's new, and they always have an answer. This time it's Elizabeth Arden bath and hand soaps, just arrived in all their entrancingly scented splendor. And if you linger around the department long enough, they'll also show you the big sale on shampoo, and the wonderful Pink Suds buy—two bottles for the price of one. "Is it worth trying?" I asked Pearl Walters. "I'll say it is," she enthused. "It's wonderful. You wet your face, work Pink Suds in and you'll have the deepest, most satisfactory cleansing you've ever enjoyed, leaving your skin softer than you've ever thought possible." It's a cleanser created especially for those with sensitive complexions—so try it, if you've a skin problem.

Agnes Holdorf is still missing from our credit office, but it's certainly nice to see Helen Mitchell back on the job after her prolonged absence. She's pounds lighter though, so we'll have to begin treating her with cream and candy. Never saw our sportswear department any busier than Monday. In view of the weather, one would imagine that raincoats were selling—but observation showed that our summer visitors were investing in shorts, blouses, and the many attractive items on our clearance tables. . . . Carol Kerlin, of our handbag department, tells me she saw "The King and I" twice, and would really enjoy seeing it again. Carol will be leaving us in the fall to begin her college career, and she's thrilled about that too. Incidentally, if you have a prospective student in your family remind him or her that Marion Swartley, our Wyckoff college consultant, is prepared to give assistance with those campus and dormitory purchases. . . . If those very long stretch socks on display in the men's department at 1.95 are confusing to you, you're not alone. They mystified me too, until Bud Altomose asked, brusquely, "You've heard of Bermuda shorts, haven't you?" Sure—and I've heard of giants too, and guys from Texas. . . . Speaking of socks reminds me that the stretch styles seem to be getting gayer and gayer. Fact is, it was rather a shock recently to see a very conservative gentleman of our acquaintance wearing red, white, and blue dazdlers that would knock your eyes out. "They're a compromise," he admitted. "My wife won't let me wear gay ties, but she doesn't say too much about my socks." Why should she? It's he who's got his foot in 'em! . . . Jerry Hinton reports to work with scars on his nose and his cheeks, and some sort of explanation about sun poisoning. Seems he's just returned from a vacation at Wildwood, N. J., and not being as wise as his wife, neglected to use sun lotion. Incidentally, any number of people think Jerry resembles Redmond O'Hanlon, the New York cop who just copped the Shakespeare championship on $64,000 Challenge. . . . Not able to get away for a series of "Holiday" albums for your record player. Orchestras and music typical of the various nations take you on a wonderfully interpretive musical tour of Switzerland, Paris, Italy, South America, Spain, and a dozen other countries. They're so dreamy, romantic, and relaxing, they'll put you right in the happiest of Holiday.

North End Power Eliminates Slate Belt From Playoffs, 7-4

Kocsak Swats Pair Of Home Runs

BANGOR—North End All Stars, Wilkes-Barre, District Four Little League champs trampled Slate Belt All Stars 7-4 here before a crowd of 650 last night in an inter-district playoff.

North End was sparked by Tommy Ishkra's stellar pitching performance and the home run swatting of Mike Kocsak. The team's winning surge began in the first inning with Kocsak's initial turn at bat.

In that inning Kocsak lined a home run over the center field fence. He followed it up in the third with another home run, this time over left field fence—a distance of 185 feet. In the fifth, with two men on base, North End's Steve Rembish hit a homer over left field fence to give his team a comfortable 6-2 lead over the local champs.

Seven Hits
Ishkra's mound performance held the Slate Belt team to only seven hits. He fanned 10 during the game. Bernard Reimer was losing pitcher.

For Slate Belt, Donny Frey and Leo Reimer accounted for all four hits—Frey hit a double in the first with bases loaded; Reimer hit a home run over the center field fence in the sixth with one man on base.

By defeating Slate Belt, District Three champions, North End earned the right to take on the winner of the Jessup-Old Forge game later this week. The winner of that match will go to the Little World Series in Williamsport the last of this month.

Managers of the North End club were Joseph Granick and Freddy Banks. For Slate Belt, the managers are Ray Williams and Harold Staples.

Dodgers Blank Pirates Behind Newcombe, 3-0

JERSEY CITY, Aug. 7 (AP)—Big Don Newcombe stretched his string of scoreless innings to 33 while claiming his 17th victory, and Duke Snider socked his 31st home run as Brooklyn defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-0 tonight.

Newk, winning his eighth in a row with his third straight shut-out, beat the Pirates for the fourth time this season. He hurled a six-hitter, striking out six and walking two. The tall right-hander, who has lost five, gave up his first walk in 17 innings when he lost Lee Walls with one out in the sixth.

Hot Bat
Snider's homer, over the right-field fence, was his fifth in four games and followed a single by Junior Gilliam in the third against Vern Law, who dropped his 13th against four victories.

The other Dodger run came in the fourth when Jackie Robinson opened with a single, went to second on a sacrifice by Gil Hodges and then came home on a single by Chico Fernandez.

The only extra-base hits off Newk, who still has a way to go before matching the National League record of 46 1-2 scoreless innings by Carl Hubbell of the New York Giants in 1933, were doubles by Bill Virdon and Dale Long. Virdon's was simply a fourth-inning fly that fell between Dale Mitchell and Duke Snider as they bluffed each other away from the ball in left-center.

Long's shot to right with one out in the ninth was the first hit after Frank Thomas' single in the fifth.

Three doubleplays helped Newcombe along. Mitchell, recently picked up from Cleveland as a pinch-hitter, started as a replacement for Sandy Amoros in left field. Sandy cut his finger while opening a can.

Robinson left the game in the fifth, complaining of an upset stomach and dizziness.

The victory gave the Dodgers a 6-0 record at Roosevelt Stadium, their home-away-from-home this season.

TAKING a leaf from the book of American college basketball teams which have been specializing in skyscraper cagers, the Russians have come up with Janis Kumins (right), seven feet two inches. Kumins, top scorer of the Soviet quintet which hopes to snag Olympic honors, weighs 330 pounds!

Lumbermen Rally For Three In Fifth To Defeat HLH, 7-4

A THREE-RUN OUTBURST in the bottom of the fifth inning enabled Cramer Lumber to score a 7-4 verdict over Heller-Lloyd-Howell in the East Stroudsburg Little League yesterday.

HLH fought back from a two-run deficit to even matters at 4-4 with a two-run sprint in the top of the same fifth round.

Both teams picked up singletons in the first, but the Lumbermen went to the front with singletons in the third and fourth innings.

Don Metzgar and Fish highlighted the contest with home runs.

Both teams committed four errors in the field, but the Lumbermen enjoyed an 8-4 edge in hits.

Today's schedule will pit the National Bank against Cramer Lumber at 6:15 p.m. team's outs over the six-inning distance. He allowed only three hits and walked four.

Bobby Somers, who pitched the entire game for Security Trust, also gave up only three hits, two of them by "Yogi" McGraw, but walked nine batters and was the victim of a weaker defense.

Colonial scored all its runs in the second inning on a combination of two hits, four walks and two errors. The losers tallied single counters in the first and fifth.

Security Trust's defeat knocked the bankers out of undisputed hold on first place and threw the standing into a three-way tie for the leadership. Peoples Coal and VFW are now tied with Security for the top spot.

Schedule for the remainder of the week matches Penn Stroud Hotel and First National Bank tonight at 6:15; Colonial Diner and VFW on Thursday night, and Security Trust against VFW in a postponed game Friday night.

Ted Tops Unusual Afternoon By Walking With Bases Loaded As Red Sox Decision Yankees

BOSTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—Terrible Ted Williams, the Red Sox had boy, walked with the bases loaded in the 11th inning today to force in the run that tipped the scales in a pitcher's struggle as Boston edged the New York Yankees 1-0. Two Yankee errors touched off the fateful 11th and a walk to Billy Klaus which loaded the bases spelled the end for Don Larsen who had yielded only four hits.

Yank skipper Casey Stengel called in lefty Tommy Byrne for the second straight day. Byrne's brilliant job last night saved a 4-3 decision over the Sox that ended a six-game New York losing skein.

This time Tommy couldn't do it. Williams walked on a 3-2 pitch forcing pinch runner Billy Conso across the plate with the game's only tally.

Seven-Hitter
Willard Nixon, Boston right-hander who specializes in beating New York, tossed a seven-hitter in gaining credit for his 10th lifetime triumph over the Yankees. He has lost five times to the American League leaders.

Williams put on quite a demonstration for the overflow 36,350 fans at Fenway Park.

In the top of the 11th inning, Ted dropped Mickey Mantle's fly in left field for an error as the crowd boomed. On the next play Williams redeemed himself by leaping against the scoreboard to haul in Yogi Berra's long drive for the third out.

As he ran into the dugout, Ted—noted for his spitting gestures to the press—this time spat three times at the fans, carefully aiming at both the right and left field sections.

On the game-ending walk, he threw his bat some 40 feet in the air.

Yankee third baseman Andy Carey fumbled Nixon's grounder to open the Red Sox 11th. Billy Goodman bunted and it appeared Nixon was an easy victim at second until Bill Skowron threw wide into center field and two were on.

When Klaus walked, Byrne replaced Larsen. In the meantime Conso had gone in to run for Nixon.

Sports Williams Fined $5,000 By Red Sox For Spitting At Fans

By Whitney Martin

NEW YORK, Aug. 7 (AP)—Caught short.

It would be ironic if another New York Giant discard turned out to be another star in the National League pennant race, particularly as the Polo Grounders are wallowing unhappily in last place.

Sal Maglie, who wore out his welcome with the Giants, eventually landed with the slightly detested rivals, the Brooklyn Dodgers. His most recent accomplishment was a four-hit shutout over the St. Louis Cardinals to keep the suddenly revived world champions right behind the leading Milwaukee Braves. His season's record now is 5-3, and the shutout was his 100th major league victory.

Now the muscled Cincinnati Reds, hard-pressed for pitching to stay within striking distance of the top, have acquired Larry Jansen from Seattle.

Record

Jansen, an ex-Giant, had a 11-2 record for the Coast League club and had won his last nine starts.

Note that the Los Angeles club has put a $200,000 price tag on large Steve Biko, who is hitting home runs with abandon out there. There was a time you could have had him for a dime and a box top.

He came up to the St. Louis Cardinals when they were owned by Fred Saigh, who, with a small man's worship of size and physical strength, predicted Steve—not to be confused with the sergeant—was destined to be another Babe Ruth.

Blimp

When Biko reported that spring he should have soared in. He was a blimp, that's all. With enough tallo to make candles for several Christmas trees.

He explained he had been married not long before, and had been a frequent guest at the home of his mother-in-law. She was an excellent cook, and Steve, not wishing to offend her by turning down delectable dishes, ate more than was good for him.

That was in 1949, and he came up to the club every year through 1954, but only in 1953 did he remain the entire season. In 1954 the Cardinals sent him to the Chicago Cubs.

His vast bulk naturally curtailed any natural speed, but he could hit the ball a country mile when he connected. That wasn't often enough, however.

Now he seems to have found himself, although there is considerable difference between minor league pitching and that of the majors.

Speaking of hitters, maybe you noticed that the Pittsburgh Pirates have a young fellow playing for the Lincoln, Neb., team that recently hit his 60th home run.

Name

His name is Dick Stuart, and if he could move up and hit with even a small resemblance to his minor league performance the hard-pressed Bucs could use him right now.

However, if they did bring him up they would be doing just what we have been campaigning against—taking a young fellow in mid-season from a minor club after he had acquired a following.

Note that Dutch Harrison won the $25,000 All-American Open Tournament at Tam O'Shanter. He's 46. No holding the kids these days, is there?

Cole's Squad Dumps Hughes

COLE'S DRUG topped Hughes Printing 16-7 in the Minor League playoff yesterday at East Stroudsburg Little League Park.

The two teams meet again Friday night at 6 for the next tilt in the "best two out of three" series.

Ernie White, new manager of the Nashville Vols of the Southern Assn., is putting in his 20th season in organized baseball. Only one of his teams has finished in the second division.

Levy Equals Amount Paid By Babe Ruth

BOSTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—Boston Red Sox General Manager fined Ted Williams $5,000 for his spitting gestures in today's game against the New York Yankees.

Cronin took the severe action an hour and a half after Williams' latest outburst, imposing the fine for what he termed "conduct on the field."

Williams said he was sorry it happened.

"I was sorry the instant I did it," Williams said. Previously Ted was silent and sullen in the dressing room and had said nothing to the press immediately following the contest.

Williams had spit several times earlier this season—once in the presence of major league Commissioner Ford Frick.

In addition to the spitting today, Williams threw his bat some 40 feet in the air after drawing a bases-loaded walk in the 11th inning as the Red Sox edged New York 1-0.

Conference

Cronin told writers he assessed the fine against Williams himself after conferring with Manager Mike Higgins and talking by telephone with owner Tom Yawkey in New York.

"Mr. Yawkey was listening to the game on the radio and was very upset by Ted's actions," Cronin said.

Cronin said that when he notified Williams "he couldn't explain his action but said he was sorry it happened."

"We couldn't condone such actions," Cronin said. "And it was too bad it had to happen after a great catch he made (off Yogi Berra) in the 11th inning."

Williams could not be reached after Cronin's announcement of the $5,000 fine, one of the heaviest ever imposed in major league history.

In 1925, the great Babe Ruth was fined $5,000 by New York Yankee Manager Miller Huggins.

Earlier, the umpires of the game had said they planned to report the bat throwing incident as part of their reports to American League President Will Harridge. Whether league action will be taken is up to Harridge.

In Chicago, American League President Will Harridge said: "So far as the umpires' reports on the bat throwing incident are concerned, we will take proper action when we have received them. If the club has assessed a fine of $5,000, the club apparently feels it has handled the matter to its own satisfaction. I can make no further comment at this time."

Three Clinch Team Berths

DETROIT, Aug. 7 (AP)—Crew-cut Don Harper led an Ohio State sweep in the men's springboard diving trials today and slender Shelley Mann of Washington, D.C., shattered the American women's 100-meter freestyle record in tryouts for the U. S. Olympic swimming and diving teams.

Harper, indoor AAU and college champion, won the 3-meter springboard competition and with two other former players of Ohio State's Mike Peppe, Glen Whitten and Robert Clotworthy, became the first to clinch berths on the American Olympic team.

Clotworthy, national champion in the event, made a strong comeback in the optional dives in the afternoon after blowing one of his morning assignments to finish eighth in the compulsory phase.

516 Points for Harper

Harper, finishing magnificently with a 1½ somersault and double twist, scored 516 points compared with 490.5 for Whitten and 476.3 for Clotworthy, an ex-Buckeye now in the U. S. Army.

Miss Mann, of the Walter Reed Swimming Club, cut a full second from the American long course record when she swam a preliminary heat in the 100-meter freestyle in 1 minute 4.6 seconds.

Palmerton's Elmer Valo Pushing Phillies Toward First Division Finish In Flag Race

NEW YORK, Aug. 7 (AP)—If the Philadelphia Phillies wind up in the National League's first division, much of the credit will have to go to an oddballer with the verve of youth—outfielder Elmer Valo.

When Elmer was released by the Kansas City Athletics two and a half months ago, the Phils were in the market for a right fielder who batted left.

Valo filled those specifications but there was the little matter of age—he was 35—and naturally the question arose "Why was he released by the A's?"

Philadelphia Manager Mayo Smith took a look at Elmer in three separate workouts and passed the word along to the front office he thought Valo could do the slumping Phillies some good.

Elmer has done the Phils a lot of good. In fact, they have won 39 games while losing 33 since the chunky right fielder was added to the roster, a first-division performance.

Changes Role

It had been pretty generally taken for granted when Valo joined the Phils that he would be used strictly in a pinch hitting role. He'd won the American League's pinch hitting title in 1955 with Kansas City.

But Elmer was in the starting lineup his first night in Philadelphia. Smith was asked how come.

"He's not here as a pinch hitter," was the reply. "He's here as a ball player. I don't know how far he can go at 35 but we'll find out."

At present reading, it looks like Elmer may go on forever. Barring a slump, he's headed for the best season he's ever had in a Philadelphia uniform, including his 1940-45 stint with the A's here.

Currently Elmer's top hitter among the Phillies with a whopping .321 average. His previous high as a regular was .307.

Tucker's Softball Club Gains Nod Over IAM, 11-7

TUCKER'S CHEVROLET scored in all but two trips to the plate last night and finished with an 11-7 verdict over IAM in a Monroe County Softball League game.

The contest was played at Stroudsburg Playground.

The winning club had to fight from behind with a five-run outburst in the second round, after

STANDINGS	W	L	Pct.
Twin City	5	0	1.000
Tucker's	3	1	.750
Gray's	2	2	.500
Nobel's	2	3	.400
IAM	2	4	.333
Tobychanna	1	5	.143

IAM had plated three markers in the top of the same frame.

Both teams tallied once in the third, but the Tucker nine picked up two in the fourth. IAM scored three times in the fifth, but Tucker's squad came back with three more in the sixth.

Gail Fegley pitched for Tucker's, while Charley Posten worked for IAM.

Tigers Sign First Baseman

DETROIT, Aug. 7 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers have signed Will Riser, 19-year-old first baseman from Manheim, Pa., to a minor league contract.

Riser, who has a 400-plus average in semi-pro ball in Pennsylvania, will report to Tigertown at Lakeland, Fla., next spring. Riser is a lefthander who weighs 175.

The Detroit Tigers lost 28 games and won only 15 by one-run margins last year. "We led the American League in runs scored," says Manager Bucky Harris, "but we evidently didn't score enough."

Ronson Tops IBW, 3-1

RONSON TEAM beat International Boiler Works 3 to 1 in Babe Ruth League competition last night at Gordon Giffels Field, Stroudsburg.

Next game in the league is scheduled for Thursday night at the local field when Line Material meets Worthington Mower Co. team.

Babe Ruth "B" Squad will practice today at 5:30 p.m.

Convicted Communist Loses Appeal

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP).—The Veterans Administration said today Robert G. Thompson—convicted as a Communist leader in 1951—has lost his final appeal for restoration of his pension for a World War II disability.

The VA pointed out that Thompson is now serving a term in Federal penitentiary at Atlanta on a Smith Act conviction, and added: "The Board of Veterans Appeals held that this background and the speeches he delivered against the United States after the Korean conflict started, constituted assistance to an enemy of the United States."

A 1944 law prohibits disability payments to anyone who renders assistance to an enemy in time of hostilities, an agency spokesman said. The decision does not affect the $30.15 the VA pays monthly to Thompson's wife and two children.

There is no further appeal from the decision.

Tuberculosis

Thompson contracted tuberculosis in the Pacific during World War II, and for a time drew total disability payments of $150 monthly. These payments were suspended in 1951 when he jumped bail after being convicted with 10 other Communist leaders of advocating forcible overthrow of the government.

His tuberculosis is now classified as arrested.

Thompson, who was New York State chairman of the Communist party, won a Distinguished Service Cross for his wartime service.

His original three-year sentence was increased to seven years after he jumped bond, and he entered the Atlanta prison in 1953. Although the VA board held Thompson "has forfeited all accrued or future Veterans Administration gratuities to which he might otherwise be entitled," the agency said his family will continue to draw $30.15 monthly—"an apportioned share" of the veteran's benefits.

Thompson's case was heard by the board in July after he appealed to the VA from the ruling denying him further payments.

Stock Market Shows Steady Push Ahead

NEW YORK, Aug. 7 (AP).—The stock market pushed firmly and steadily higher today to make up about one-third of the loss sustained in a heavy decline the day before.

The climb began cautiously with small increases soon after the market opened. International oils and steels led the way as gains increased during the session. Leaders trimmed their increases slightly during late trading but many issues held to their highs.

The brokers viewed the rebound from yesterday's selloff as the result of upward forces that have pushed recent markets close to the historic high. These were generally given as the prevailing high level of business and inflationary pressures.

The Suez Canal crisis, which touched off yesterday's decline, was apparently being viewed more calmly.

Interests

Gulf Oil and Royal Dutch, which have big Middle East interests and took the heaviest beating yesterday, were again among the most actively traded issues. Royal Dutch closed 2 1/2 higher at 103 1/2 and Gulf Oil was up 2 at 129 1/2.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 70 cents to $189.50, with industrials up $1.20, 10 cents, and utilities up 10 cents.

The average increase amounted to one-third of the $2.10 drop in 60-stock index yesterday. With 2,180,000 shares traded, volume was close to the 2,280,000 shares of yesterday.

STRAUSSER, In loving memory of Dorothy Strauss, of Reiders, who passed away Aug. 8, 1955.

We can't say Happy Birthday, dear Dorothy, but we can say Happy Anniversary. With love and remembrance.

Those days we shared with you, and your gentle smile, are still in our hearts. On earth's finite scale of years.

But here, on our heart's calendar, today's day is marked with tears.

SADLY MISSED BY MOTHER AND EARL.

Waring Group Sings At Gap Churches

DELAWARE WATER GAP—Worshippers at both the Methodist and the Presbyterian Churches were given the inspiration of having groups of students from the Waring Workshop sing two numbers during the morning services.

In the Methodist Church, 40 singers marched to the choir section and later were led from the balcony by Dr. John Raymond of Lafayette College while Miss Elsie Hillelo accompanied them at the organ. Rev. Philip Hanni, pastor of the church, preached about "Freedom."

Presbyterian
In the Presbyterian Church, Dr. Earl Wilhoite led the 31 singers and they were accompanied at the organ by Richard Chronister. Rev. Luther Markin, the Presbyterian pastor, spoke on the "Reward for Well Doing."

The same selections were sung in both churches, "Seekers" written by Rev. Joseph Roff, and "O Brother Man" written by Roy Ringwald of the Waring staff. Clarence Seaman of Philadelphia played the Presbyterian organ for the regular part of the service; and James Anthony, III, is organist for the Methodist Church.

Plenty of Zip at a pip of a price

(It's a great time to buy a Buick!)

SERIOUSLY—where else can you get so much snap and ginger at such a peach of a price?

Where else can you get a big, high-powered, steady-riding hardtop like this '56 Buick Riviera—at a figure that's pretty close to what they're asking for similar models of the well-known smaller cars?

Nowhere else that we know of—which is one big reason why Buick outsells all others cars in America except two of those smaller cars.

BUT RIGHT ALONG with low price is something else behind Buick's big success: Buick is a lot more automobile for the money.

It gives you more room and luxury—more zip and power thrill—fine handling and sure-footed stability.

And it gives you something you can get in no other car—today's advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo.* It's the only transmission in the world with the cruising thrift and the switch-pitch safety-surge taken from the modern plane's propeller.

So WHY WAIT any longer—when the time to take action is now, so you can start enjoying all the golden months of summer and fall in a new '56 Buick?

Now—when Buick prices are as low as—perhaps lower than—they'll ever be again.

Now—when your present car is at its peak of worth—and when today's high volume '56 Buick sales permit us to make you an even better trade-in allowance.

Come see us—and look into the car that puts you years ahead right now.

Come see us today—and discover the dilly of a deal that will make you wonder why on earth you waited as long as you did.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.
